LIBRARY ADMINISTRATOR’S REPORT: Ed Goyda
Mr. Goyda presented his Director’s Report for February/March 2018.

Mr. Goyda discussed a meeting that he had with Karen Karten from the Judy Center. They talked about the possibility of partnering with them to apply for a grant from the Community Foundation of the Eastern Shore. The Judy Center is interested in possibly sharing a van with the library. Other avenues of obtaining a van were also discussed.

The BEACON Center is waiting for the go ahead from Wicomico County Library to start their Economic Impact Report for the Eastern Shore Libraries.

Mr. Goyda stated that 193 items were collected during the fine amnesty program and donated to the Seton Center in Princess Anne and Immanuel Church in Crisfield.
The One Maryland One Book selected for this year is Bloodsworth: The True Story of the First Death Row Inmate exonerated by DNA by Tim Junkin. We will be having programs in the fall relating to this book.

Mr. Goyda reported that the State Library has formed a task group to investigate opportunities to expand group licensing of electronic resources, specifically the circulation systems. While a majority of the counties are on Polaris, some of the larger counties are not. This will be a long process since most of the counties are on five year contracts at this time.

The Smith Island Family Frames project is on-going. Dr. Rehak presented work to date at the Society for Applied Anthropology Conference in April. She is running a bit behind on this project but hopes to have photos and audio presentation in May.

The School Board approved the Student Cards agreement. A promotional flyer will go home with the students with the Summer Reading announcements.

Summer Reading programs are set and work on the brochure is underway. Kick-Off block parties will be on June 23 in both branches.

Polaris fine tuning continues.

New Xerox copiers have been installed in both branches. All copiers are now identical.

Charles Cavanaugh (from the County) has a vendor who is interested in bidding on the installation of the baffling in the Crisfield meeting room. We are awaiting the bid.

Design work is underway to make changes to the Princess Anne library including enlarging the teen area, moving Maryland Room and Non-fiction collections, creating a study area and moving Fiction and Large Print to another area.

Collaboration with the Crisfield Heritage Foundation’s Brown Box presentation of As You Like It continues. Plans to have Dr. Rehak present Family Frames are underway as well as hosting adult and teen acting workshops depending on Brown Box’s availability.

Branch Highlights

Crisfield: Jaime Bradshaw reported that they had their first after-hours activity for teens – Glow in the Dark Party with 73 teens in attendance. Jim Washington’s Chinese cooking demonstration had 33 people in attendance. Ashley Gilson continues with community outreach. She participated in a Judy Center event at Woodson Elementary School.
